VICE PRESIDENT SHERMAN IS ILL

PHYSICIANS—A L A OVER COMPLICATION

Has Been Sick for Several Months, Unable to Perform Duties

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 28.—James S. Sherman, vice president of the United States, is seriously ill and steadily failing at his home here.

While his physician, Dr. Fayette H. Eck, believes there is no immediate danger of death of the patient, yet his condition is such that it is a matter of conjecture how much longer he can withstand the ravages of the disease with which he is afflicted.

Dr. Eck at 8 o'clock tonight authorized this statement:

Condition Is Grave.

"Mr. Sherman has been sick all of his life, due to the condition of the arteries, hardening of the arteries and narrowing of the muscles of the heart, which are somewhat stretched. Mr. Sherman had an attack in the Adirondacks at Big Moose lake, and I expected him to die. He got out of Big Moose and improved steadily and satisfactorily until the latter part of August. Since then his condition has been aggravated and he has been steadily failing.

"For the last three weeks, since he came back from Connecticut, where he went to rest, he has been dressed only once, and that was a week ago Friday, when, against my protest, he went out to the polls to register.

Doctor Expresses Hope.

"Mr. Sherman is now in the condition which that sort of trouble leads to, and is very seriously ill, but there is hope."

Springs Men Aid Rescue Marooned Boy Near Hartsel

Along on an island in the middle of Oyster Bay, near Hartsel, and a few miles west of this city, Marlow, aged, is years old, faced death by being for almost seven hours last night and was rescued late that night after he had all but abandoned hope of being taken ashore alive.

Among the rescuers were Lou Gifford and Bert Connors of Colorado Springs, who were hunting in the vicinity.

With a companion of his own age, who, with Husted, lives at Garo, a statement on the shore of the reservoir, the boy started out duck hunting on the lake in an old flat-bottomed scow, propelled by home-made oars. They paddled around until they landed on the island, about 400 yards from shore.

They hunted together on the island for a while, and then Husted's companion got into the boat alone and paddled around the island looking for ducks. A heavy wind arose, and the boy in the boat struggled in vain to return to the island. Husted tried to swim out to him, but the water was so cold that finally he was compelled to give up the attempt and return to the island.

The boy in the boat drifted back to the settlement on the shore. Fear, it is believed, caused him to neglect giving the alarm, that his companion was in the boat on the island, but the townspeople missed Husted, and finally swung fire on the boy.

A rescue party was quickly organized, but its plans seemed about to fail because it could not propel the boat against the gale. The rescuers over the difficulty by summoning the former bull rafts on Lake Michigan. The bound railroad ties together with telephone wire and soon a raft, with its numerous propellers, was sent skimming across the water.

The party found Husted suffering intensely from cold, and it is believed that if he had remained on the island a few hours longer he would have frozen to death.

'The Battle for Right

Are you striking every blow for the Progressive party?

Are you trying to convince every man and woman you meet that the Progressive party is battling for humanity?

Do you tell them that child labor, night work for women, the unbridled flotation of wildcat securities and the use of money to debauch elections are only a few of the many intolerable conditions the Progressive party pledges itself to stop?

Do you tell them that the Progressive party is battling to destroy the invisible government and the unholy alliance between corrupt business and corrupt politics, Republican and Democratic alike?

If you are not doing this, you are not doing your share in this great war for humanity.

Start now and do it every day and hour until the polls close on election night.

COL. ROOSEVELT ABLE TO WORK BUT CAN'T SHAKE HANDS VERY WELL YET

"I Don't Feel a Bit as Though I Had Been Shot," He Declares, but Winces With Pain

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Oct. 28.—"I don't feel a bit as though I had been shot," said Colonel Roosevelt today. The colonel was so much better that his physicians gave him permission to reestablish communication, through the correspondents at Oyster Bay, with the outside world. It was the first interview he had given since his return to Sagamore Hill and he talked for 20 minutes without a sign of fatigue.

"This seems like being alive again," said the colonel, as he entered his library. "It seems good to get back into the old channel once more." He walked with a brisk, vigorous step and his face had lost none of its color.

When he shook hands, however, he gave the first indication that he was feeling the effects of the wound. Instinctively he held out his right hand, his face twitched with pain which he sought to conceal, and he thrust his hand into the pocket of his riding coat and put out his left.

Feels Little Pain Now.

"I haven't much use of my right fist yet," he exclaimed. "I am feeling well, but I suppose there are always some small complications. The chest muscles on the right side are sore. The broken ribs seem to have knitted, and I feel no pain from it unless I breathe deeply."

Colonel Roosevelt said he felt well enough to make his speech to Madison Square garden on Wednesday night and that if he suffered no serious effects he might make a few other speeches before election day. The hardest problem, he said, was to keep out of crowds for he is in no condition to get into the "struggling masses of people which often surround him on his campaign trips. Precautions are being taken to keep him out of the crowd in Madison Square garden.

Right Hand in Pocket.

He had now gained sufficient strength, the colonel said, to walk about the grounds near the house with ease. His right side did not pain him when he walked, as long as he kept his right hand in his pocket.

His plans for the rest of the campaign depend upon the outcome of Wednesday night's journey to New York. "I'll see how it goes then," he said. "I'll get through that all right. I may make a few more speeches."

One of the speeches, he added, might be at a second Progressive rally in Madison Square garden. There had been some talk, he explained, of a meeting there, in behalf of the Progressive state ticket.

Next Monday Colonel Roosevelt hopes to be able to speak in the neighboring towns of Minneola and Huntington and in Oyster Bay.

Gets Birthday Cake.

Today's mail brought Colonel Roosevelt more than 1,000 letters and 300 telegrams. Most of them were messages of congratulation for his birthday, or because of his recovery.

His birthday gift which interested him most came today from Mrs. Richard Jordan of Oyster Bay. It was a cake six feet in diameter. Beginning in the middle where half a dozen leaf clovers were set in the icing a road wound in and out over the top of the cake with electric lights on poles, one for each state along the way. The tiny incandescent lamps were lighted by a storage battery concealed in the cake. At the end of the road is the White House. At the front door is an eight-inch automobile, containing Colonel Roosevelt just about to enter the executive mansion.

TWO DEAD, MANY HURT IN CANADA TRAIN WRECK

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—Two soldiers of the Toronto garrison were killed, two probably fatally injured, and 37 others hurt when a train on which the troops were returning from sham battles at Milton was wrecked this evening near Streetsville Junction, 22 miles west of this city, by the engine of the Canadian Pacific express bound for Detroit.

REPORT OF NEW SANTA FE DEPOT CONFIRMED

Verification of the article in The Gazette last Thursday to the effect that the Santa Fe railroad will build a new depot and hotel in Colorado Springs is contained in the following Associated Press dispatch received yesterday:

DENVER, Oct. 28.—An appropriation of $200,000 has been made by the directors of the Santa Fe railroad for the construction of new terminals in South Denver, Englewood and Petersburg, and for enlarging its passenger station at Colorado Springs.

The plans include the building of a line from Petersburg, seven miles south of Denver to Englewood at the southern end of Broadway.

Several executive officers of the Santa Fe, including General Manager F. C. Fox, were here last week in connection with these plans. At Colorado Springs they closed a deal for the purchase of land, costing $20,000, which is to be used for improving the passenger station in that city.

An appropriation of $250,000 has been made for that purpose. The depot will be enlarged to include a hotel and large dining room and will be used jointly by the Santa Fe and Colorado & Southern.

Sec. U. S. Navy Can Keep in Touch With World By Wireless

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Cracking and sputtering with life, the navy's new wireless station at Arlington, Va., the most powerful plant in the world, tonight flung from its lofty spires the first messages which signaled the completion of an important step in the building of a globe-spanning wireless system, which will keep every ship of the United States navy, and every insular possession, within instant communication with the capital.

Down in the sound-proof operating room, windowless, and protected by double doors, some of the navy's most expert operators, directed by Lieutenant Woodworth, sent out the first flashes.

"N-A-X, N-A-N," the call for Colon. 1,155 miles away, was sent hurtling through the air. At intervals the instruments sparked off "N-A-R," the call for Key West, 953 miles off. No official messages were sent, but the results of the test were noted at all stations on the Atlantic coast, as well as Key West and Colon, and reports of the trials will be made tomorrow.

Radius 30,000 Miles.

The radius of the new plant will be about 30,000 miles when it is in working order. This range, probably the acme of wireless operations, will be attained gradually, and it may be weeks before the big plant is "tuned up" to its highest efficiency.

Communication with the Pacific coast will be attempted only at night for the present, "off" throughout the day (the secretary of the navy, at his desk in Washington, will be within instantaneous communication with Key West, Guantanamo, Colon, the navy coaling stations, and all Atlantic stations. When the plant is working perfectly, and the chain of stations is completed, Washington will be in touch with Hawaii, Samoa, Guam, the Philippines and Pearl harbor. The completed system will cost about $1,000,000. The ships

NEW SOCIETY TO KEEP TAB ON CITY'S MORALS

A social service survey which will inquire into the wages, hours and conditions of work in stores and shops in this city, and investigate into the social and moral questions affecting the community, will be an important item in the work of the Men's Brotherhood association, the preliminary organization of which was completed last night at a meeting of representatives of the various churches held at the Y. M. C. A. Bible study, missions, community extension work and cooperation with the boys' organizations will be other important items in the work of the brotherhood.

Two or three suppers where the men of all the city brotherhoods may get together are included in the plans of the association.

The officers and committees of the association will be selected at a meeting to be held November 18 at the Y. M. C. A.

COPPER MINERS AT ELY DECLARE STRIKE IS OFF

ELY, Nev., Oct. 28.—The strike of the copper miners, mill and smelter men was declared off today by an almost unanimous vote. The Lane Miners' union and the Steptoe Mill and Smeltermen's union held meetings today and instructed delegates to the Ely Central Labor league to use every effort to bring the strike to an end. The action was to ratify agreements reached between Samuel Belford and the agents of the Western Federation of Miners. The men will return to their work immediately at the wage scale effective October 1, which allowed all classes of miners and laborers an increase of 25 cents a day.

As London Sees Roosevelt

Americans stand, perhaps, too close to the Milwaukee incident to grasp its full dramatic value. The London News, from a vantage point where the innumerable details and counter-factors remain unfulfilled, grasps the big significance of the incident. It says editorially under the caption, "The Amazing Roosevelt."

"Mr. Roosevelt becomes the most remarkable man in the world. He is the only politician whose words are less than his deeds. He is the only one who would have stood before a frenzied audience and shown them his blood-stained shirt. That act is unexampled for sheer audacity. That act will win him for all time a place among the real heroes of his land. We see in it the secret of the personality power of America's greatest men."

"What a scene! What a man! Truly in this amazing leader America has no equal in any country in the world. This attempted assassination of Mr. Roosevelt and his almost unbelievable act of courage are blessings in disguise, for out of them will surely come the return—the triumphant return of Roosevelt to the White House."

As a figure on the world stage the foreign eye sees him best. And it is in this light that history will judge him. Indomitable, self-reliant, charged with man-stuff, this American of destiny who rides astride the steed of opportunity, and whose sinewy armor clanks as he rides is the living embodiment of the true American spirit: progress, enthusiasm, courage and fair play. His star, instead of setting, approaches the zenith.

BULGARIANS CUT OFF ADRIANOPLE

FALL OF SCUTARI NOW IMMINENT

Montenegrins Advancing and Decisive Battle Will Be Fought

SOFIA, Oct. 28.—The Bulgarian forces, according to advice tonight, have captured the towns of Lule Burgas and Demotica. It is also reported that the Turks are constructing earthworks along the river Erkenek, west of Esaki Baba.

Bulgarian cavalry is reported cutting communications between Adrianople and Constantinople and between Adrianople and Macedonia. The bridge over the Tchorluk river at Cherkessko has been blown and citizens leaving Adrianople are passing through the lines to the south.

The Turkish commander at Adrianople has been formally summoned to surrender. A second military train from Constantinople loaded with troops has fallen into the hands of the Bulgarians at Esaki Baba.

Fall of Scutari Imminent.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—A dispatch from Rome to the Post states that Montenegrin troops at the summit of Tarabosh and that the fall of Scutari is imminent.

A cutting dispatch to the Standard says the commander at Scutari is turning no answer to the summons to surrender and that the Montenegrins are bombarding Scutari.

The Express publishes a dispatch dated Turkish headquarters at Tchorluk, October 25, saying:

"Abdullah Pasha's camp is here. His army lies in a line from Lule Burgas to Banjarissar, and a decisive battle is expected within a week."

Lost—A Turkish Army.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—An interesting question at the present moment is the whereabouts of the Turkish army, of which nothing definite is known.

The news that Esaki Baba has been taken by the Bulgarians, however, apparently without resistance, shows that Nazim Pasha's army is not where it was supposed to have been on the line between Kuleli Burgas and Lule Burgas. It may be further west in the direction of Demotica, but it is

JOHNSON ANSWERS ATTACKS IN MAINE

Finds Same Sentiment Exists as Found in Indiana and Pennsylvania He Says

BANGOR, Me., Oct. 28.—Governor Johnson today spoke in 19 cities and towns of Maine.

"I see here a replica of the sentiment in Indiana and Pennsylvania," he said at Waterville. "It is the spirit that is going to return Theodore Roosevelt to the White House and once again give us a real president who will work at all times in the interest of the whole people."

Governor Johnson learned early today that the arguments used against the new party in Maine were that the charges of fraud in connection with the Chicago Republican convention were unfounded, and that the governor himself had deprived California Republicans of their votes.

Answer Both Charges.

Regarding the Chicago convention, he went into detail, and of the direct charge against him, he said:

"The Taft men in California had an opportunity to place electors on the ballot if they desired. They did not pursue the course that was open to them to put their electors on the ballot, probably because the leaders of the Taft movement in California already had determined to support the Democratic candidate."

The governor left tonight for Meriden, Conn.

BULL MOOSE SNORTS OVER THE MORRIS-SHEAFOR-LITTLE STEAL

Seventy-five Per Cent of Teller County Vote to Be Cast for Democrats as Rebuke to Judicial Tricker. How to Scratch a Ticket

A man who in his time as a Republican has been more prominent in Teller county politics than any one now living, declared yesterday that the Democratic candidates for judges in the Fourth district would receive at least 75 per cent of the vote cast in that county.

That seems a pretty strong statement, but the truth of the matter is that the Bull Moose ticket, headed by Morris, Little and Sheafor, is a pretty hard dose for the Progressives who are in earnest. It looks as if the steal was going to be a boom-crash to come back and knock its throwers.

Last April a Taft club was organized in this city, and among the charter members were Messrs. Morris, Sheafor and Little, and, in fact, they or nobody will claim that they ever were Progressives.

Right after Mr. Roosevelt got things going in the middle of the summer, and before the local Progressives could act in the matter of putting up a ticket by petition (you see, they have to go on petition, being a new party), Morris and Little, who had been nominated by the Progressives for the judgeship, thought on the brilliant plan of beating the Bull Moose ticket. Sheafor was taken into the deal later, but Willis Strachan, regular Republican candidate for district attorney on the ticket with them, was not consulted. They have to have a Cripple Creek man with them, don't you see, so it's walk the plank for Willis with these selfish politicians.

Consisting with T. B. MacDonald of Cripple Creek, a petition was circulated in Teller county putting in nomination W. N. Ruby of this city, one Riekards of Colorado City and one Gurney of Victor for district judges on the Progressive ticket, and MacDonald for district attorney.

These "take" candidates—excepting MacDonald—saw the vacancy committee that is always named in a petition of the kind, their resignations immediately after filing their acceptances with the secretary of state. Then this committee got busy and filled in the names of Morris, Sheafor and Little, just as arranged for, and that is why they appear to be the Bull Moose candidates when in spirit they are cheats upon the innocent voters.

INSTRUCTIONS TO SCRATCHERS

If you are a Republican, Progressive or Socialist, and desire to vote for one or more of the Democratic candidates for district judge (and it seems that almost every Progressive and Republican is doing it) you must make a cross [X] after the name or names of Democratic candidates for whom you wish to vote, and draw a line through the name or names of the Republican, Progressive, Prohibition or Socialist candidates for whom you do not wish to vote.

Follow the same rule as to candidates for the following offices: Congress-

SCARCITY OFFICERS FOR REGULAR ARMY, SAYS GENERAL WOOD

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 28.—In the opinion of Maj. Gen. Leonard A. Wood, chief of staff of the United States army, the problem caused by the lack of officers for the army in time of war may be solved through the military academy. After completing his present tour of the Pacific coast and the Mexican frontier, General Wood will offer his plan at Washington.

At a time of war there would not be enough officers to command the regular army and the militia, and the need of a reserve is evident," he said here today, before his departure for New Orleans. "Let graduates of the many military academies be offered temporary commissions in the army at recommendation of the various army officers stationed in the schools."

One-Year Commissions.

"But the commission would be for one year only, with the possibility of a temporary commission on exceptional service. The cadet would become a second lieutenant, junior to regular lieutenants. At the end of the year he could enter any business pursuit, but would be retained on a reserve. This would make possible the offering of a reserve force, and eventually might solve the problem of the scarcity of officers should it become necessary to permit the army to war strength and organize volunteers.

MAJOR GEN. LEONARD WOOD.
Chief of Staff U. S. Army.

Asked regarding the Mexican situation, General Wood merely said: "I certainly will recommend no diminution of the force already on the border at present, neither do I believe it necessary to be enlarged."

Need Western Protection.

"Inspection of the Pacific coast protection leads me to believe that we need a strong mobile force there, as the harbor fortifications are only of value in protecting the harbors, while transports could land troops at any point. I will inspect the harbor and river conditions about New Orleans before returning east."

General Wood not only was received by Gen. E. Z. Stever and officers at Fort Bliss, but, in an automobile, journeyed to Juarez, the Mexican town opposite El Paso, and witnessed a review of the 800 Mexican troops, guarding the Mexican side of the border. With General Wood, he called informally on General Tracy Abbott, and a special guard of the coast was held in his honor, the military band playing American airs. As the American army officers saluted the Mexican colors, the crowd cheered the exchange of international courtesy.

APPEAL SUIT DEFAULTING SAFE MANAGER DENIED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The United States circuit court of appeals denied today the appeal of the National Surety company from the decision of a lower court by which the company was ordered to pay the Western Pacific Railroad company $30,000 as the liability of a bond given by the surety company for J. Danell Brown, defaulting manager of the California Safe Deposit and Trust company.

MILL MEN CLAIM ONE OF OWNERS FIRED SHOT

LAKE CHARLES, La., Oct. 28.—Testimony that mill men and not members of the Brotherhood of Timber Workers, fired the first shot in the Grabow labor riot that John Helton, one of the defendants, was not a participant in the riot, and that Marzark Galloway, a member of the company, following the Galloway riot, in front of which the battle occurred, was among those who fired on the union men, was given by witnesses for the defense today in the trial for murder of A. L. Emerson and his eight fellow members of the Brotherhood of Timber Workers.

Taft Uninformed on Kansas Politics, Declares Gov. Stubbs

TOPEKA, Kas., Oct. 28.—Gov. W. R. Stubbs today made the following statement in reply to President Taft's assertion that the Republicans of California and Kansas are disfranchised:

"President Taft is entirely mistaken in his statement this morning sent out by the Associated Press from Washington, that the Republicans in Kansas are disfranchised."

"The exact facts are that, after the Taft election had been defeated in a statewide legal Republican primary by 35,000, in favor of Theodore Roosevelt electors, that the Roosevelt men voluntarily withdrew from the Republican column, and the Republican state central committee placed the Taft electors on the Republican ticket under the name of Taft and Sherman."

"The Roosevelt electors in Kansas will appear in an independent column, under the name of Roosevelt and Johnson. The voluntary withdrawal of the Roosevelt electors from the Republican column was after the Taft electors had failed to get them removed in two suits in the supreme court of the state, one in a district court of the state, and three suits in the federal court of the United States."

"President Taft evidently has failed to keep up with the political situation in Kansas during the present campaign."

VALLON ACCUSED OF KILLING ROSENTHAL

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—It was learned tonight that the appeal which counsel for Charles Becker will make for a new trial for the former police lieutenant will set forth under what will be described as "new evidence" that Harry Vallon, the informer, fired the shot that ended Herman Rosenthal's life, and that "Bald Jack" Rose's story was a "damned against Becker" that San Schemps, state witness, who corroborated Rose's story, perjured himself when he swore he knew nothing of the murder plot, and that Harry Vallon committed perjury when he said he did not ride from the Hotel Metropole in the "imperial car" after the slaying of Rosenthal.

A gambler whose name John F. McIntyre, Becker's chief counsel, is not ready to reveal, will swear, according to the appeal, the lawyer is preparing, that it was Vallon who killed Rose, that, while another witness is ready to testify that he heard Rose and Vallon plan the murder while at the home of Dora Gilbert, who was Rosenthal's first wife.

Davidson's Trial Wednesday. Another prospective witness is ready to swear, according to Mr. McIntyre, that Rose told him three days before his confession to District Attorney Whitman that Vallon was Rosenthal's murderer.

"Red Phil" Davidson, slayer of "Big Jack" Seelig, will be placed on trial Wednesday morning. On Monday the prosecutor plans to bring "Whitely" Lewis to trial. His case is expected to take up four days. "Lefty Louie" "Gyp the Blood" and "Dago Frank" will then be tried in turn.

Word was given out at the district attorney's office today that William Shapiro, driver of the murder car, will be given immunity under an agreement by which he has promised to turn state's evidence and testify against the four gangsters.

DARING ROBBERY BRANCH OFFICE PRUDENTIAL CO.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Burglars entered a branch office of the Prudential Life Insurance company in Brooklyn this afternoon, gagged the cashier, Alice Brenneis, with a handkerchief saturated with chloroform, left her lying bound on the floor, and after looting a safe, escaped with $500.

The robbery took place a block from a station house in the most heavily policed precinct in Brooklyn and within a few blocks of the home of Mayor Gaynor. Miss Brenneis later recovered from the effects of the chloroform.

PRES. TAFT TO ATTEND LAUNCHING NEW YORK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—President Taft, after a two-day stay in Washington, will leave tomorrow for New York to be present at the launching on Wednesday of the New York—the biggest American dreadnought—at the New York navy yard. The president, with Secretary Meyer, will board the dreadnought on the ways at the navy yard about 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning and after the launching will take lunch at the yard. He will visit the naval branch of the U. S. C. A. in Brooklyn and at night attend a dinner of the navy yard employees at the Thirteenth regiment armory, returning to Washington on the midnight train.

While in New York the president will occupy a suite in the Manhattan hotel which was occupied by Ex-President and Mrs. McKinley on their visits to New York.

The secretary of state and Mrs. Knox, and the secretary of war and Mrs. Stimson were dinner guests at the White house tonight.

PRE-HALLOWEEN BONFIRE CALLS OUT FIRE FIGHTERS

If Colorado college students hold a Halloween celebration at Washburn field Thursday night, they will have to forage for more bonfire material. A pile of material was set one fire at midnight last night, presumably by rival classes, and the blaze was sufficient for the department from No. 2 station to be called out to watch its progress. The firemen remained on the ground for more than an hour to see that the flames did not spread to surrounding buildings.

TAGGART THE CASINO BOSS

Privately a Corruptor of Youth. Publicly a Corruptor of Politics

THE MAN BEFORE WHOM MARSHALL BOWS DOWN

The Man Who Presided at the Wilson Meeting at Indianapolis

TAGGART, THE CASINO BOSS

By WILL IRWIN.

"We've cast out the bosses," says Woodrow Wilson. Certainly he has. Assuredly he has. Tom Taggart of French Lick Springs, Ind., and nearly everywhere, including Paris, for example. To show its utter freedom from bosses, its repudiation of the worst elements in American democracy, the Democratic party has suffered him to control a candidate for vice president and to be national committeeman from Indiana.

If you do not know who Taggart is, what position he occupies in Indiana, it is a tribute to your decency. He is primarily the keeper of a casino, that is a pretty name for a gambling resort, at French Lick Springs, and secondarily head of the state machine. His private business, in short, is to corrupt youth, just as his public business is to corrupt politics. And he shows admirable team-work in making each of these branches of his activities help the other. The funds by which he maintains his Democratic machine are raised by the old, familiar method. They are gathered, in the beginning, in the drugs of society, from which they are passed up to him, receiving increments on the way from near-respectable gentlemen who have an interest in seeing the laws overlooked.

Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, Democratic nominee for vice president, figured in the beginning as an opponent of Taggart. His opposition was never effective; the casino boss continued to get just about what he wanted when he wanted it. Then Marshall was stung by the presidential bid.

Taggart took charge of his campaign and headed the Indiana delegation to Baltimore. In fact, the observer would have thought that it was Taggart, not Marshall, who was hunting the nomination. After Taggart had carried through his program, which included naming a corporation-owned state ticket and drafting a corporation-inspected platform at home, the time came to choose a national committeeman for Indiana. Taggart announced that he would "retire." Marshall was delighted. He knew Taggart well enough to understand how that name would look on the committee. He prepared Representative Dixon for the place. But when the time came, the name national delegates unanimously "called" Taggart to the job. That is an old trick, worked time and again by Boss Cox of Cincinnati, the Republican prototype of Tom Taggart. Then Taggart deliberately humiliated Marshall. He resigned from the committee, and the well-remembered gang set up such a howl that Marshall yielded to force, requested him to reconsider. So Marshall acknowledged publicly his allegiance to his boss. And finally, we find Woodrow Wilson, the unbossed, calling Taggart, the boss, to Seagriff for a pleasing conference on Indiana affairs, consorting with him on his trip through Indiana, accepting him as chairman of the Wilson meeting in Indianapolis.

He conducts his great gambling establishment unimpeded in the heart of a decent commonwealth. By virtue of sympathetic cooperation with the Republican state boss, he does the work of the corporations with one hand and traffics in vice with the other. And he is committeeman, counselor, adviser, to a party which has "cast out the bosses."

BULGARIANS CUT OFF

Several supposed it has retired from the line of the railway and entrenched itself on the long line between Demotica to Tchorlu.

Constantinople dispatches continue to speak of the readiness of the Turkish army to take the offensive. In any case a few days must see something decisive. The victorious Bulgarian army is advancing. It has occupied Bunarhisar and is marching towards Kuleli Burgas. It is reported that the Bulgarians have blown up a bridge over the Tchorlu river, showing that the turning movement is making rapid progress.

Throws Turks Out of Europe.

Unless the Turks are able to take the offensive vigorously, the present indication is that they will be thrown out of Europe altogether, failing interference by the powers at the present stage to end the war, as happened in the Russian campaigns against Turkey, in 1828 and 1878, when Russia captured Adrianople and was at the gates of Constantinople.

There have been renewed activities with regard to European intervention in the last few days and great diplomatic activity in London. The Turkish ambassador had a two hours' conference Sunday at the French embassy and a conference was held today at the British foreign office between Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, and Lieut. Col. J. E. B. Seely, minister of war. Then the Turkish, French, Russian and Italian ambassadors visited the foreign secretary, who afterward had an audience with the king at Buckingham palace.

demoralized, and has evacuated Koprili, and is retreating on Monastir.

A dispatch from Constantinople tonight reports that Mahoud Shifto he been appointed chief of the commissariat department. The acceptance of the appointment is considered as showing a spirit of remarkable self-abnegation on the part of a distinguished official at the post. Though important, scarcely corresponds to his high rank and previous services. It appears to confirm current reports of the deplorable condition of the Turkish commissariat.

Expect Decisive Battle Soon.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 28.—The minister of war, Nazim Pasha, who has reached the scene of operations in the east, telegraphed today that he is well satisfied with the position of the Turkish forces, and expects a decisive battle soon.

The minister says the Bulgarian army sustained such severe losses in the battle of October 23 that it was unable to reform and resume the offensive. On the other hand, he adds the Turkish forces since that date have gained in strength and numbers and await confidently the Bulgarian attack.

It is announced that Hilmi Bey, who commanded a division at Kirk-Kilis, and is credited with inflicting heavy losses on the Bulgarians, has been promoted to brigadier general.

Martial Law Enforced.

Martial law is being rigorously enforced. Nobody is allowed out after 10 o'clock at night. The minister of the interior has issued a circular ordering the administrative officials in the war zone for abandoning their posts, thus increasing the panic of the populace instead of striving to tranquillize them.

The cabinet crisis has been averted and the grand vizier has decided to retain his office.

Ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid arrived here tonight, and was lodged in the palace on the Bosphorus. His son Prince Abdul Sahim, who was on the staff of Prince Aziz, also arrived today. He was wounded in the fighting at Kirk-Kilis.

Surrender to Servians.

BELGRADE, Oct. 28.—Semi-official advice reports that the Turkish army, which retired from Uekup toward Voles, surrendered today to the Servian cavalry, and delivered up their arms. The Servians later seized 12 guns.

That section of the Turkish army which was defeated at Kumanova appears to have been entirely broken up. The Turks from Ietip are making Voles the objective point of their retreat. Prior to the occupation of Ietip by the Servians, the inhabitants arose against the Turks and seized their arms.

PROFESS TO SEE SPIRITS HOVER OVER COURT ROOM

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—The state introduced its principal evidence today in the trial here of Mrs. Louise Lindloff, spiritualist, clairvoyant and crystal gazer, charged with poisoning her son, Arthur, and whom the prosecution asserts had foreknowledge of the deaths of many other members of her own family.

Dr. Walter S. Haines, who testified as an expert toxicologist, said he found between three and four grains of a mineral poison, enough to cause death, in the body of Arthur Lindloff and in the body of William Lindloff, one of Mrs. Lindloff's husbands, and of Alma Lindloff, her daughter.

"In my opinion all three members of the family died from poison," said Dr. Haines. He also testified to analyzing the contents of a box, said to have been found in Mrs. Lindloff's house, to contain 30 per cent mineral poison.

A number of fortune tellers, crystal gazers and mediums, some from distant cities, are attending the trial, and profess to see spirits hovering about the court room, and to be receiving spirit messages on the case.

ISSUES CLEARLY DRAWN

AS the Presidential campaign draws to a close, the voters of the country are being won over to the Progressive cause by the hundreds of thousands each day. The issues of the day are clearly drawn, and to Colonel Roosevelt himself is due the credit for making the vital questions so well understood. Taft and the Republican corporation machine are obviously out of the running, and Professor Wilson has lost ground so fast that he will not make nearly so good a second when the votes are counted next Tuesday as was at first thought. In this connection, Colonel Roosevelt has drawn the issues with Professor Wilson along the following lines:

FIRST: While Professor Wilson has sought to challenge by left-handed insinuations the attitude of Colonel Roosevelt upon the question of Union Labor, the facts disclose that in three successive pronouncements of Mr. Wilson in 1906, 1907 and 1909, he has been all his life a bitter opponent of the principles of Unionism.

SECOND: Upon the question of Nativism or hostility to our foreign population as depicted in Mr. Wilson's statement in his "History of the American People" while he was not a candidate. This position adds to the Progressive strength every right-minded voter in the country.

THIRD: Upon the Trust question, the Colonel's speech at Chicago, published generally in the press, not only proves his constructive position on the Trusts, but puts Professor Wilson as Governor of the State of New Jersey in an utterly questionable position, and forecloses him on that question. It establishes clearly that with the full power to control the predatory trusts of the country under the law of his state, he has remained silent while the foreign corporations incorporated in the state of New Jersey were preying upon the other 47 states of the Union.

FOURTH: The position of Professor Wilson in asserting that the program of social justice can be advanced while maintaining the doctrine of State's Rights is an utterly impossible theory, a fact which was made clear beyond a peradventure by the reasons set forth in Colonel Roosevelt's speech on Nationalism at Milwaukee.

FIFTH: The attempt to charge by Professor Wilson that Roosevelt is supported by the Harvester and Steel Trusts is answered fully by the Colonel in the fact that out of 23 directors of the United States Steel Corporation he will secure one vote, which vote is that of George W. Perkins. Every director, with the exception of Mr. Perkins, is friendly to Mr. Taft or Professor Wilson for President. As to Mr. Medill McCormick's connection with the Harvester Trust, this is a misleading statement, as Mr. Medill McCormick has never held a single share of stock in the Harvester Corporation. That stock is held by Cyrus and Howard McCormick, who are immensely wealthy and who are both supporting the candidacy of Professor Wilson. This is confirmed by the signed statement of Mr. Cyrus McCormick forwarded to the Senate Investigation Committee to the effect that the Harvester Trust never during the Preconvention or present fight, has contributed a dollar to the Roosevelt or Progressive Campaign fund.

SIXTH: Mr. McKinley, the Preconvention manager of Mr. Taft, after asserting on the floor of the Senate that two or three million dollars had been spent in the Roosevelt Preconvention fight, denied all responsibility for the statement and characterized that report as an absurd, silly deal and pretended that he had not signed any of the interview of the Preconvention fight.

SEVENTH: The Senate Investigation Committee controlled by the Democratic organization of the House and the Taft organization of the Senate, has maliciously devoted its full attention to misrepresenting the comparatively small amount of money spent in the Preconvention fight for Mr. Roosevelt, which, taking the national and state funds together, represents but a small percentage of the fund actually expended in campaigns of that magnitude and in that breadth of territory.

EIGHTH: Because the Progressive Platform has proved to be unassailable in its commercial planks, the whole tenor of the campaign has been a personal assault upon Colonel Roosevelt, an attempt to impeach his integrity as a public officer, which is the most delayed form of campaigning, which ignores the high ground of discussion of issues, which has never met with the approbation of the American people. Disregarding the principles of right-minded men, Wilson has, by left-handed and indirect assault, led the attack in this character of campaign.

NINTH: This campaign is too full of vital meat, too pregnant with living things, to spend time in a graveyard of antiquated or specious discussions.

Theodore Roosevelt, whom they now seek to assail, has been for thirty-two years before the American people in the assembly in New York State, as Police Commissioner of New York, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Colonel of the Rough Riders, Governor of the State of New York, Vice President of the United States, and President of the United States. If he did nothing else but establish the highest ideals of official probity and understanding of the needs of the ninety-nine per cent of struggling men, which he has done, he would have done enough.

The business men of Colorado and the entire country are determined to destroy the menace of a Democratic victory. They appreciate fully what this means to each state individually as well as to the nation. Constructive government under Democratic rule is impossible, and the boss-ridden Republican party has outlived its usefulness, as experience has proved in both instances. The Progressive cause is hailed by deep-thinking, right-minded men and women as the greatest political movement in modern times, as the bulwark of safety in this national crisis, when history is in the making and the people are lined up against the machines of both old parties for the principles of justice and common-sense government.

GETTING THE NEWS FIRST

THURSDAY morning, October 24, The Gazette printed a story on the first page under the following self-explanatory two-column head: "Santa Fe Ready to Start New $200,000 Depot Here Pays $20,000 for Strip of Land on Station Site. Work on Picturesque Structure Will Be Under Way Soon."

That afternoon the Telegraph purported to quote an official of the Santa Fe as follows:

The Santa Fe has no more intention of building a depot in Colorado Springs this year than it has of building one on Pike's Peak. We have had plans drawn for the Colorado Springs depot for several years. Sometime the company will construct a new depot in Colorado Springs on the site of the present one, but not this year.

Yesterday afternoon the Telegraph published a story on the first page under the following three-column head: "Santa Fe Makes $250,000 Appropriation for Depot Hotel Improvements in City. He who runs may read."

A WORD OF PRAISE.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

The writer is one of the many who have been pleasantly entertained by the Sunday orchestra concert in Stratton park pavilion during the autumn season now drawing to a close. While referring to the splendid programs rendered by the musicians under the leadership of Prof. William J. Pink, we at the same time would fall short of a pleasant duty if we failed to mention the young lady soloist, Miss Winifred Estelle Fudley, who has a voice of great sweetness and power. Her beautiful rendition of popular and classical songs have been greatly appreciated, a fact proved by frequent encores. Vocal as well as instrumental solos are always welcome features of band and orchestra concerts, and we ought to have more of them. MUSIC LOVER.

THE COST OF PROHIBITION.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Replying to a letter which appeared in your paper last Saturday on statewide prohibition, allow me to say a few things.

The statement is made that Colorado Springs will lose $40,000 every year if prohibition becomes effective. This loss the writer estimates to be due to the loss of $19,900 in licenses and $20,000 for the cost of prosecuting violators of the prohibitory laws. We frankly acknowledge the immediate stoppage of the first item—the $19,900 now received as license. We positively deny the estimated cost of $20,000 for prosecution. The city has its corps of police and its police court machinery, and this is conducted by salaried men who draw the same salary whether they prosecute 10 men or 110 men per month. In fact, the cost of prosecution of 110 lawbreakers of this sort would cost less to the city because of the greatly increased fines which the city would collect. But we would like to have the public read an article printed recently in the Telegraph by Sheriff Birdsall, from which we quote: "This office (that is, the sheriff's office) as well as nearly every branch of the courts has had nearly double the business in the last two years and if the criminals had not been placed in jail, I am sure the citizens would have complained. The price of feeding prisoners is fixed by law, etc." Mr. Birdsall did not write this for prohibition purposes. He simply stated a fact that the city and county records show. The records show that there were turned over to this county last year—1911—from Colorado Springs, 285 prisoners who had to be housed, fed and tried, the cost of which is met by direct taxation. Some of these cases require days of time and the costs run into the hundreds of dollars. Beside this Colorado Springs pays her full share of the cost of keeping up the Canon City penitentiary, the insane asylums and other state penal and corrective institutions. The budget last year for these was $427,599. The records of these institutions show from 25 per cent to 90 per cent of these victims placed in them through liquor and its allied evils. The average cost is about 50 per cent. The per capita share of the $2,000,000 people here to pay in direct state taxes is $8,000. Add to this the tremendously increased cost of the sheriff's office and county and district courts, which has nearly doubled since Colorado Springs went back to license, and it is not clear how we would lose $40,000 per year if it is not for the writer's accusations of being a set of sentimentalists. We may be that, but we are not fools, and we want our opponents to stop dealing in speculations and predictions and give us facts. Show us a single town or city in Colorado that has been hurt where taxes have been raised, where debts had to be repudiated, where property depreciated in value, where business stopped and banks busted, where the dire calamities they predict have happened. We have 100 dry cities and towns in Colorado, on the map, too, and the state will be moving on in every department long after the licensed liquor traffic has been dead and buried.

HARVARD TO EAT IN PEACE.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

Three long Harvards and three times three—And why? Because hereafter no visitors may throng the balcony of Memorial hall in Cambridge to watch the students eat.

No more will 2,000 eyes be uplifted to gaze at the next creations of millinery to the confounding of digestion; no more will the rattling of 1,000 plates be in protest against the riotous attention of rosy-checked girls observing the animals' feed. For the Harvard men have grown shy. They would not so peace-trouble his life and his Kantian conscience. But what a blow this new rule will be to future sweethearts and doting mothers! How the hearts of those idolaters used to flutter as they beheld Archibald gulping a stew or Harry (dear boy) trying to drown the memory of an all-night poker game in a cup of neat coffee.

A gas with that old cry of Harvard indifference! Henceforth, ladies, you may see your heroes in full swing as they stride across the yard, glib on hat and pipe in mouth. You may see them on the gridiron and in the halls of art, poetry and song, but no more shall you behold them wielding the knife, the fork and the spoon. Their proud spirit has risen in revolt.

DRUGGED NEWS.

From the Chicago Tribune.

The purchase of purchasable papers by the Republican campaign managers may seem like nothing more than a piece of business to obtain advantage, but it is an easy-going idea of decency that will so accept it.

Observe the contract with Louis N. Hammerling offered to the publishers and had signed by them: "The undersigned agree that no article or advertisement of any kind or nature will be published on this or any other page of our paper advocating the election of any candidate of any party for the presidency and vice-presidency of the United States other than William H. Taft and James B. Sherman, their electors, and the Republican nominees for the different state offices."

"Freedom of the press" becomes an interesting fiction when a $1,000,000 can close newspapers to any discussion of rival candidates or opposite measures.

The law which became effective October 1, requiring publicity of newspaper ownership and, to a certain extent, of newspaper operation has the appearance of a wise recognition of a public need when observed in the light of the above contract.

AMERICANS IN MEXICO.

From the New York Evening Post.

It is been our observation that most of the American capitalists engaged in business in Mexico are patiently awaiting the outcome in that country without bombarding the United States government with demands for intervention. Especially is this true of certain mine owners, who are cheerfully bearing the loss due to the shutting down of their mines. There is a different class of our countrymen, however. From one of them we have seen a letter which declares that "if the United States would intervene, lands in Mexico would double and treble mighty fast. As soon as the United States takes a hand, there will be the greatest influx of people to Mexico you ever saw." This land-speculation matter, writes an American in business in Mexico City, "is one of the leading causes that produce this agitation for intervention." To the best of our knowledge, if the question of intervention were left to the American colony in the City of Mexico, there would be an overwhelming vote against it. The crossing of the boundary by American troops would be the signal for a general uprising against the Americans, and there would be more American property destroyed in the first week than could be replaced in months and years of hard labor.

A Word to Fathers and Mothers

By RUTH CAMERON.

"It is true that I am an alien. But my son—my son is Themistocles."—Enterpe.

A mother came to me the other day complaining bitterly about her 18-year-old daughter.

"It seems that when the mother was a little girl she loved books and study and dreamed as her most precious dream that some day she would go to college. Some day never came. Instead she had to give up even finishing her high school course. It was a very bitter disappointment and naturally made her prize education even more highly, so we always do the good things we miss."

And so it was that when this woman went into a home of her own and one day they laid her baby girl in her arms, her first thought was, "She shall have the finest education in the land." And so the mother began, for this precious new incarnation of herself.

"Of course you know the rest." After 18 years of saving and planning and dreaming on the mother's part, the girl does not want to go to college. To her it is unjust and unreasonable that her mother should insist on tying her down to four more years of the study she hates. To the mother it is the most bitter trial of her life; she sees her daughter throwing away what to her is an unspeakable precious opportunity, and she endures the disappointment of her dreams, a second time.

Only those who have had some such experience in their lives can know how much tragedy is wrapped up in that simple story.

The extent to which fathers and mothers enter into their children's lives is both beautiful and terrible.

It is truly wonderful to see how much personal pride, how much renewed ambition they feel in these reincarnations of themselves.

There is a woman who lives near me whose little daughter has a very fine musical talent. I enjoy hearing the little girl play, but I enjoy even more watching the mother's face fairly glow with happiness as she sits and rocks and listens. The mother has had many losses and disappointments. She was bred to a life of culture, luxury and ease. She is living a painfully narrow and toilsome existence. And yet, as she sits there rocking and listening to the second generation fulfilling her own dreams of musical accomplishment, she looks perfectly happy. I would give much to be able to paint her portrait then.

Young people, you cannot realize too keenly how much it means to the older folks to have you fulfill their dreams.

But you older folks, you also cannot realize too well that young people have their own lives to live. They are a part of you, you say. Ah, yes, but remember that they are partly—and the bigger part—their own.

Grant that they may be willing and able to fulfill those unfulfilled dreams and ambitions of yours. But grant also that they may have forgiveness and patience and understanding when that is not possible.

MEASURES TO BE VOTED ON AT ELECTION NOV. 5

In order that the voters of El Paso county may familiarize themselves with the proposed laws and amendments to be voted on at the general election November 5, The Gazette intends each day to publish a brief abstract of one of the proposed measures, until the entire 32 have been set forth.

The twenty-fifth proposition to be submitted to the people at the coming election has for its object the placing of the smelter industry under the control and regulation of the laws of the state. It seems to make the following a part of the constitution of the state of Colorado:

"Any person, company, association or corporation engaged in this state in smelting, sampling, refining, reducing, milling, or otherwise treating ores, minerals or metals shall be regarded as engaged in a business affected with a public interest and devoted to a public use."

The friends of this amendment claim that if this is a portion of the constitution then the state can regulate smelter charges and rates.

Lowell, Mass.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

Lowell, Mass., is a permanent convention of cotton mills and shoe factories, assembled around the Merrimack river, which puts in overtime every day running them.

For many centuries the Merrimack was allowed to tumble over the rocks unharmed. In 1822, however, a company built a dam and Lowell began to grow. It is now famous for its factories which stretch along the river looking at night like four and five-story torchlight processions. Lowell makes each year enough cotton cloth to tie a 100-foot wide sash around the earth with a bow 500 miles across. It also makes 25,000 shoes a day, a train load of socks, and enough patent medicine to cure America or drown it.

Lowell has 110,000 people, most of whom trace their ancestry back to Europe in the first generation via the steeple. Its name is the most American thing about it except the business, like many in which it makes millions. French newspapers in Lowell print baseball scores in French, while the city boasts 11 miles of power canals and calls itself the Venice of America. This is kinder than it would be to call Venice the Lowell of Italy.

Lowell is not at all exciting in its business section. It has no skyscrapers and business is not congested except on Saturday nights. Lowell has one of the biggest Saturday nights in the country. It costs less to live in Lowell than it does anywhere else in America, which is lucky because few of its people carry their wages home in wheelbarrows. The city has many parks and plenty of farm land on all sides but most of its workmen still live in tenements and when the fall rent went up recently the plumbing in the said tenements didn't improve any.

Lowell has some fine old New England families but not enough to influence its voting. For the rest it sounds on holidays like the Babel building trades union out for a holiday and the storekeeper in Lowell, who wants to succeed must be able to talk 150 words a minute with his hands and arms.

CHAMP CLARK LEADER IS OUT FOR ROOSEVELT

The stampede towards the Progressive party is fairly under way. W. H. Williams of Minneapolis, who managed the campaign of Speaker Clark in Minnesota before the Baltimore convention, has come out open for Colonel Roosevelt and the Progressive platform, and has volunteered to take the stump for the Progressive ticket.

"Colonel Roosevelt is a better representative of the things for which Democracy is supposed to stand than Woodrow Wilson," announced Williams.

Half the Clark men in Minnesota will vote for Roosevelt if they do not work for him openly. The fact that the Progressive platform offers relief for the man who tolls will bring to the Progressive ticket thousands of voters in Minnesota.

Williams was state labor commissioner under the late Governor John A. Johnson. His conduct of that office endeared him to the labor element in the state, who threw most of their votes to Champ Clark in the state primaries.

ANOTHER APPRECIATION

Editorial Springfield Republican. Antiprogessive.

When Theodore Roosevelt caught sight of New York after his journey to Africa his first words were: "Say, boys, that's bully!" It was the same Theodore who in the hospital said cheerfully: "A 38, eh? Some drive to that!" America likes his nerve and his breezy unconventionality; and no one is readier than his political opponents to recognize his engaging quality. Who but an American would have expressed himself just so on other occasions?

One of these Ruskin Proofs fitted in an antique gold frame makes an ideal gift.

THE HASKIN LETTER
PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS
XVIII THE FOUR-CORNERED FIGHT OF 1860

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

The presidential contest of 1860 stands out as the most momentous in American history. The issues were such that most sober men realized that civil war was the inevitable outcome, and there were some who were willing that it should come early and be over with. When Alexander H. Stephens, afterward vice president of the southern confederacy, left the United States senate, he said he was leaving Washington perhaps never to return, except it be as a prisoner of war. He said he regarded war as inevitable if Lincoln were elected, and it was fairly certain that he would be after the Democrats' so hopelessly at Charleston and at Baltimore.

There was a possibility in that campaign that the opposition to Lincoln could poll enough electoral votes to prevent him from getting a majority and a hope that the election would thus be thrown into the house. It was feared that in a house election the best of Lincoln could do would be to get the votes of 15 states, while Breckinridge could expect 12 states. The other states would probably go to Douglas first and then to Breckinridge, giving the latter the presidency, or falling in that, Lane, the vice presidential candidate on the Breckinridge ticket, would in the meantime be elected vice president by the senate and would succeed to the presidency.

Calculations Prove Vain.

But all these calculations proved vain, for when the returns came in

UNITED STATES BIGGER TODAY THAN POLITICS

Former Secretary Republican National Committee Says Business Is Adjusted to Any Result

Elmer Dover of Tacoma, Wash., former secretary of the Republican national committee, who testified last week before the senate committee on investigation of campaign contributions, is at the Antlers hotel on his return to the coast. He stopped over in Colorado Springs to visit Commissioner E. C. Whitaker with whom he was associated in business in Ohio years ago.

Mr. Dover is Pacific coast manager of the Byllesby company, and in charge of utilities owned and operated by the company in California, Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho. The company owns the electric light and power plants at Pueblo and Canon City, and has other extensive interests throughout the country.

Was Mark Hanna's Secretary.
Mr. Dover was private secretary of Senator Mark Hanna from 1898 until the time of the senator's death. He then was secretary of the Republican national committee for two terms, and was reelected in 1908, but resigned.

"I was subpoenaed by the senate committee to testify as to the campaign of 1904," said Mr. Dover last night, and this testimony was published in the newspapers last week. The senate is endeavoring to get information upon which to base intelligent legislation. It is a legitimate proceeding and the people should credit the senate for it.

"There were things done in 1904 and prior to that time that were wholly legal and entirely regular then—but these same things are illegal today, because laws have since been passed against them."

Mr. Dover says that he is entirely out of politics and declined to discuss the present situation, or even predict the outcome of the election.

"However, I am prepared to state," he said, "that all business interests of the country are not only reconciled, but adjusted to any possible result. The country has grown bigger than politics."

Twenty years ago, Dover and Whitaker published a newspaper in McConnellsville, O. The town then had few inhabitants and the paper appeared only once a week, but the editors were proud of the Herald as an example of a model country newspaper.

"The paper is still running," remarked Mr. Dover, reminiscently, "but they are not getting out as good a newspaper as we used to, are they?" he asked Whitaker.

"Certainly not," was the reply. "We used to do all the work on the paper," Dover continued, "everything from sweeping out the office, setting type and printing the old-fashioned hand press, to trying to collect our outstanding bills. That was in the days of hand composition and Whitaker composed editorials and wrote items as he set them in type, an accomplishment lost with the passing of the old school of printer-journalists."

Both admitted that neither has been perfectly happy since quitting the newspaper game.

"To get out a good paper is a newspaper man's greatest, and sometimes his only reward," declared Mr. Dover, with all the conviction of a man who has been through the game. Whitaker and I used to plan that some day we would settle down in some small town and again publish a newspaper. But we each have other interests now and so I guess that may not come to pass."

SCENIC INCLINE TO HAVE DEPOT ON MOUNTAIN TOP

During the winter $10,000 worth of improvements, consisting of a new depot, pavilions, cottages, etc., will be put in at the upper end of the Mount Manitou Scenic Incline, according to an announcement made yesterday. The plans for the depot and the pavilions have been drawn and work will be started by November 10. Dr. N. N. Brumback, president of the road, is in Ohio, but will return in a few days to take personal charge of the work on the improvements.

Sunday ended the 1912 season for the incline, the road closing for the winter at the end of that day's business. Traffic this year has been good, officials of the road declaring that it has had the best season in its history. The line will reopen May 1.

David Sawyer, who has been assistant to Dr. Brumback as advertising manager of the road, will go to Denver next week, where he will do cartoon work for one of the papers.

POLICE RUSH TO CATCH BOLD ROBBER; FIND CAT

"Send help quick," gasped a woman over the telephone to the police shortly before midnight last night. "Burglars are trying to break into my home."

Officer Berry hurried to the scene in the 1500 block on North El Paso street. Instead of burglars he found a big yellow cat scratching on the front door, seeking shelter from the cold night air. "I thought it was burglars," explained the woman, still trembling with fear, "and I never was so frightened in my life."

When she heard the noise at the door the woman rushed out of the house and ran to the home of a neighbor, arousing the household that she might telephone the police, and terrifying the sleepy family with her story. The neighbors thought it might be burglars and, not wishing to intrude upon the duties of the police department, waited until an officer arrived before making an investigation.

The cat was permitted to go on promise of good behavior.

CLAY PRODUCTS COMPANY WILL INCREASE OUTPUT

At a meeting of the stockholders of the National Clay Products company, held yesterday morning in the office of the company, in the Midland block, steps were taken to start work on the production of 3,000,000 brick at the Colorado Springs yards, located south of the city. The company already has pressed nearly 2,000,000 brick, and expects to open up more active operations this winter if the weather keeps favorable.

Dr. M. T. Zellers of Hooper, Neb., president of the company, presided at the meeting. He has been prominent for the last four years in the lower house of the Nebraska legislature, and is the author of the Zellers ballot law, which was formerly the "short ballot" law.

Yesterday they filed a petition in the district court for an alternative writ of mandamus directing Oaks, as president of the school board, to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not be issued compelling him to execute and sign the orders for payment.

Stewart Declares Reports Not True
James Stewart, county chairman of the Progressive party, declared last night at headquarters that statements which are being circulated by the Democratic party, to the effect that Judges W. S. Morris, J. W. Shearor and J. L. Little reported to trickery to secure the Progressive nominations for district judgeships, are not true.

"It is hard to find words," said Mr. Stewart, "properly to express an opinion of the use of such methods to win Democratic votes. The men who make the statement that the Progressives were tricked into making these nominations should know that it is not true. The facts are that the Progressives in Cripple Creek, to forestall the anticipated attempt of the Democrats to file a ticket under the name Progressive, and thus rob the Progressives of their right to make nominations, filed a dummy ticket. Later the names of Judges Morris, Shearor and Little were substituted as the regular nominees of the Progressive party."

"However, this action was not taken, and these men were not indicted by the Progressives until a judicial committee had thoroughly investigated every aspect of the situation, and was satisfied not only that these judges were party to no trickery, but that all the candidates they were best deserving of support. These three men have the entire and cordial support of the Progressive party in El Paso county."

A Harmless Remedy Beautifies and Darkens Faded Hair

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded or streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft, glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and lustre if they would but use the proper treatment. There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five years of age, and there is no excuse for anyone, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff or heavy and rank smelling with excessive oil.

You can bring back the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair grow strong and beautiful by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. For generations common garden Sage has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair; and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being excellent for treatment of hair and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a fifty-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and notice the improvement in the appearance of your hair after a few days' treatment. Agents, Robinson Drug Co. Adv.

Changes in Code Hurt Football, Says Expert

By WALTER H. ECKERSALL.
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Since the fall of 1905 interest in western football has waned. Enthusiastic fans are at a loss to explain the lack of enthusiasm which has featured the big battles since the fall of 1905. It is admitted that football does not attract the interest of the old days, and, in the search for a reason, this is blamed by some to too much legislation.
Constant changing of rules has made it impossible for followers of football in the days of the 5-yard rule and mass play to understand what is taking place. They have been unable to grasp and understand the penalties for incomplete forward passes, the 10-yard zone back of the goal lines, the reason why a team should kick-off from its own 40-yard line, and why the man with the ball should not be pulled and pushed.
Lost Interest in Sport.
As a result of this ignorance of the playing rules, spectators do not take the same interest in the game. Naturally they are interested in the games played by eleven of their respective alma maters, but now they do not take the trouble nor go to the expense that they formerly did to attend gridiron struggles.
In addition to constant changing of the rules, three other reasons may be cited. They are the abolition of Thanksgiving day games between the big eleven; the withdrawal of Michigan from the western conference; and the lack of hero worship.
Before 1906, when Chicago and Michi-

HAMLIN WINS BIG AUTO RACE

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 28.—Ralph Hamlin, driving a Franklin, won the 1912 Los Angeles-to-Phoenix automobile road race today, finishing at the fair grounds here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. His running time for the distance, 511 miles, was 18 hours and 45 minutes, or at an average of about 32 miles an hour. The Cadillac No. 1, driven by Charles Soudes, was second, time 19 hours and 15 minutes, behind the Franklin. The National, driven by Fred Fuller, was third, finishing at 2:45 after the Cadillac.
Whether the National wins third prize will not be known until the official time is announced.
In the previous four races, Hamlin finished second three times and third once.

playing the game who can compare with Snow, Weeks, Maddock, Heston, Benbrook, Hammond, Redden or Hornstein of Michigan; O'Day, Curtis, Cochran, Larson, Juneau, Abbot or Larson of Wisconsin; Horschover, Kennedy, Henry, Slaker, Bezdek or Steffen of Chicago; Stahl, Hall, Lindgren, Van Mook, Monahan or Sellen of Illinois; Griffith or Williams of Iowa; Potter, Van Doozer, Johnson, Hunter and Fleeger of Northwestern; Endley and Thomas of Purdue; Harris, Walker, McGovern, Johnston, Marshall and Rosenwald of Minnesota; not to mention the score of others whose efforts many times changed seeming defeat into victory.
Hero worship did a great deal to keep up interest in the game, and the death of stars at present hinders the sport of one of its most attractive features.

Canadian Champ Draws With Dick Hyland of Frisco

CALGARY, Alberta, Oct. 28.—Joe Bayley, lightweight champion of Canada, and Dick Hyland of San Francisco, fought a 15-round draw at the Monarch arena here today.

Referee Tommy Burns' decision was popular. Bayley had a decided advantage in the open fighting, but was puzzled by Hyland's incessant infighting, which presented entirely new problems for the Canadian. Repeatedly the Californian dropped his opponent's head with short arm jolts and straightened him up with uppercuts, but aside from marking Bayley's face, the blows had no effect. Bayley used three blows—a left hook to the head, a slashing right to the body and an occasional straight left to the face. At no time was Hyland in distress, and, with the exception of the fourteenth round, when Bayley seemed to weary, the champion weathered the storm comfortably.

Chance Puts Cubs in Down and Out Class—Murphy Goal

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 28.—On his way from Chicago to Los Angeles, Frank Chance, "the peerless leader," and recently deposed manager of the Chicago Cubs, visited friends in Albuquerque today, accompanied by Mrs. Chance.
He said: "The Cubs next season will be a second division team, and everybody knows it. Murphy alone is responsible for the condition of the club. He refused to give me money to get new players, and he is now face to face with the proposition that I forecast."

Would Cut Champs' Series Winnings to Help Major Leaguers

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A plan to cut the players' share of the receipts of the world's series baseball games will be given serious consideration by the national baseball commission this week, August Herrmann, chairman of the commission, is one of the advocates of the scheme, which would limit each member of the winning team to $1,000, while the losers would get $750.
This money, according to Herrmann, will be deducted from 50 per cent of the first four games, the balance to be distributed equally among the players of the other 14 major league teams.
Under such a plan, the world's series would provide a nice bonus for all the major league players, even tail-enders, and, it is believed, would put an end to squabbling and possible scandal.

Big Leaguers Fined for Sunday Playing

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Hal Chase, Cy Seymour, Louis Dreyer, Josh Devore, Nick Altrock, "Germany" Schaefer and eight other stars of the baseball diamond were fined $5 each today in police court for playing professional baseball on Sunday. The ball players told the court that they did not know they were violating the law. They were arrested while playing.

LIVELY BASEBALL CAUSE OF EXCITING HITTING OF 1912

What the livelier baseball introduced into the game in 1911, has done to even up the sport and add uncertainty to it is shown by the quantity of batting done in the American league this year. The statistics for 1912 do not contain as great an exhibit of slugging as was the case last season, when all records were broken, but the difference is comparatively small and can be explained by the fact there was a "still faster baseball" in use a part of last season. American league teams this year have piled up 15 hits or more in 63 games of nine innings' duration or less. There were 78 such games in 1911 in the younger league. In addition, there have been several overtime battles in which more than 15 hits were registered by one team.
In order to get a line on the difference between the new ball and the old it is necessary to go back to 1910. In the last year before the cork ball was used there were only 39 games in which pitchers were hit for 15 or more safes. That was over the normal, which was around 25 games in the first decade of the present century.
Athletics Get Twenty-five Bingles.
The 1912 high-water mark for hits was set by the Athletics in May, when

Chicago Worried Over Wisconsin Game Saturday

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Following several surprises in Saturday's games, football teams of the "big nine" got down to business this week with several new factors to consider in figuring the conference championship. Minnesota proved far stronger than had been expected when the team rolled up a 56-0 score against Iowa. The far north team had made but a mediocre showing in its previous games. The victory was gained without uncovering any of the tricks which Coach Williams is preparing for the hard games later.
Chicago scored but 24 to 14 against Iowa and, in that respect, was decidedly outshined by Minnesota. Northwestern furnished one of the upsets Saturday by defeating Indiana at Bloomington, 29 to 7, a better score than Chicago was able to make against Indiana, indicating that the Evanston eleven is likely to prove a stumbling block to Chicago.
The Chicago-Wisconsin game Saturday is the most important in the immediate future. The Madison men have all the better of the record on past performances, but Chicago is thought to have considerable in reserve.

MORGAN BEATS O'KEEFE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Eddie Morgan, the English bantam, was too clever for Eddie O'Keefe of Philadelphia in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. The Englishman used a left jab to good effect, outpointing O'Keefe in almost every round. The Philadelphia was cautioned several times for holding.
Eddie McGeary of Oshkosh, Wis., and Mike Gibbons of St. Paul will meet in a 10-round bout here December 5.

FOGEL DENIES HE EVER SAID GAMES "FIXED"

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A general denial of the charges brought by the National league against Horace Fogel, president of the league's Philadelphia club, in this city, on October 17, are contained in a letter received from Fogel today by President Lynch.
Mr. Fogel's letter expressed defiance of the right of the National league to try his case for an alleged statement reflecting on National league baseball, according to Mr. Lynch, who said the text of Mr. Fogel's letter would be made public until November 28, when the league will meet here to give the Philadelphia official a hearing.
One of the charges brought against Fogel is that in a signed article he said the National league rate for 1912 was "choked," and that President Lynch and certain umpires were working in the interest of the New York club, and that further, it was "fixed" for the New York club to win the pennant. In his letter in reply today, Mr. Fogel denies he made such statements.

PRINCETON PRACTICES FOR HARVARD GAME SATURDAY

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 28.—Princeton coaches began today to build up the defensive strength of the team for the game next Saturday with Harvard. Efforts are being made to eliminate the weakness disclosed in the game with Dartmouth last Saturday, when the open field tackling was poor and the work of the line was not consistent. A long drill in tackling the dummy was part of today's work.

Yet the coaches did favor the Giants this year. One of the folk grounds, Snodgrass, smashed the ball into the left field bleachers for a homerun, and Klein let him get away with it.

.22 CALIBER CARTRIDGES

.22 Caliber cartridges are so small and cheap that some manufacturers don't take much pains with them. That's why some don't go, while others may go some, but not enough to amount to anything. You can't make this complaint about Winchester .22s. Just as much pains is taken in their manufacture as in that of the large caliber cartridges that cost money. They are loaded by automatic machinery, which must supply a full charge to each cartridge and seat the bullet properly. They are sure to go off and send the bullet with snap enough to hit hard. They cost no more than inferior makes. You will get them if you ask for the

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

EL PASO MAY BUILD BIG MILL AS RESULT REPORT

Special to The Gazette.
CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 20.—So confident that the countryman report will send the New York stock market into a frenzy seldom witnessed, local men have ordered the purchase of several thousand shares of El Paso stock.
An expert examination of the mine has been made for the purpose of determining the amount of ore in sight, with the view of ascertaining whether or not it would be advisable to construct a 500-ton mill for the treatment of the low-grade rock. But this examination has disclosed that the life of the mine will be 20 years if not another one is discovered.
The dividend of 10 cents a share will be paid October 31. The stock has about 100,000 shares outstanding.
The company was never in better financial condition than at the present time, and the ore reserves never contained a greater quantity of ore.
With the starting up of the Nichols shaft in the next week, allowing a large increase in the output from the mine and allowing the stock, the doubling of the profits, the stock will certainly become scarce.
The Burriss management, in several years' time, has developed the mine from a "play-act" proposition to one of the most profitable in the district. With the discovery of the rich C. K. & N. shaft, on the tunnel level, it was then known that the mine was a mine of long life, and just as fast as possible, the development has been carried out.
Appreciating that the countryman report will show a world of low-grade ore in sight, and show that the El Paso is perhaps the largest property in the district, negotiations looking to the construction of a 500-ton mill have been started. That the stockholders will vote to put up the mill is the belief, since the mill will mean huge profits for the company.

PORTLAND DEVELOPMENT SHOWS DEEP ORE BODIES

Special to The Gazette.
CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 20.—Recent development work on the 1600-foot level of the Portland mine has confirmed the high expectations entertained of the new strike of sulphide ore, according to statements made by President P. G. Peck, who paid a visit to the mine last Friday. The company is drifting on the vein, and a great deal of ore shipped from this locality shows that it is up to the average of the ore found in the levels above. There is beyond question a vast body of this ore, and one of the most encouraging features of the strike is that the same quality of ore has been found on the lower level of the Vindicator, and in other properties that have sunk below the old water level. This indicates that the Cripple Creek district has a zone of ore that was not suspected before the Roosevelt tunnel opened the way for deep development work, and the officials of the Portland company feel that the strike on their property means a great deal for the future of the entire district. Making allowance for the difference in elevation at the collar of the shafts, the strikes on the Portland and Vindicator are practically on the same level. The Portland shaft's collar is at an elevation of 10,251 feet, and the Vindicator collar at 10,216 feet. The strike on the Portland is on the 1600-foot level and that on the Vindicator on the 1600-foot level. It is believed that other properties will find this ore at about the same depth.

TAILINGS FROM OLD ASSAY OFFICE SHIPPED

Special to The Gazette.
CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 20.—The tailings from an old assay office, located in the burned building, were sorted and shipped, way a very early, and a settlement was made on the rate of about five cents to the ton, it is said. There were nearly two tons in the shipment. The assay office was run by Joe Thompson, who went to the last district from here.

WHEN A LAXATIVE IS NEEDED "CASCARELS."

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills Are Violent—They Act on Bowels as Pepper Acts in Nostrils

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel fresh by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, easy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Calomel or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, indigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the accumulated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action, a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

He asks judgment and costs.

THE WEATHER MAN

BY

JOHN McCUTCHEON

Once there was a man of Great Atmospheric Displacement, who had been quite a disappointment as a Public Official. He had been elected to carry out certain Policies which the people strongly approved, but when he got safely in office he carried them out as a shutter. The people who had elected him felt that they had been deceived and so they grimly waited for a chance to show their disapproval. Whenever the chance came they showed it in unmistakable terms. Landslide after landslide fell upon him but he didn't seem to take the hint. Whenever he asked the people if they wanted him to run again the people arose and in a thunderous voice said "No."

Notwithstanding these symptoms, he buried his pride and determined to run whether the people wanted him to or not. Certain powerful Politicians who had benefited by his failure to carry out his antiseptic policies, succeeded in nominating him, after one of the coarsest pieces of political manipulation ever known. The will of the people was ignored with lordly contempt. Having been nominated, if it became necessary to frame up some reason why people should vote for him. So he went to the people and pointed to the record-breaking corn and wheat crops which filled the land with prosperity. "Look there," quoth he, "See all this prosperity. Now you ought to know who to vote for."

"But he isn't running," answered the People, with a broad grin. "Who isn't running?" exclaimed the Candidate.

"Why the man who is responsible for this prosperity—the Weather Man, of course."
